Paralyzed Veterans of America Fights for Continued Access to Life Sustaining Health Care during the Coronavirus Pandemic

VA is ready for the COVID-19 pandemic, said VA Secretary Robert Wilkie during a White House press briefing March 18.

First, if you haven't already received or seen the notice, the Chapter office has temporarily closed in response to the COVID-19 pandemic and Massachusetts Governor Baker’s declaration of a State of Emergency. With this closure though, our staff is working remotely and still committed to meeting the continued needs of the membership. If you have an immediate need, with which the Chapter can assist, please continue to call the office number 800-660-1181, as calls are either being re-routed or you may leave a voicemail.

If you feel ill or require VA services otherwise, all VA Healthcare facilities are asking patients to call first, before attempting to arrive in person. Regardless of where you receive your care in New England, the VA Boston Healthcare System can provide you with guidance before visiting any VA facility or community care provider. Their direct number is (617) 232-9500. As this pandemic is a fluid situation, please keep an eye on your email’s inbox for any other news related to the Chapter and/or PVA and any scheduled activities.

Moving on with just quick note - we had another successful Advocacy and Legislative Seminar, having met with 21 of our 33 New England Congressional offices. That’s 2 more than last year! Kristen McCone Gordon, our new Government Relations Director, was able to attend the entire week, getting an immediate and educational immersion into the legislative priorities of PVA and then presenting them in a meaningful way to our Congressional leaders. Just having been hired 3 days prior, she did an impressive job, and will continue to be asset to our Chapter. Please see page 4 to read “From the Hill” for her first-hand experience of PVA’s Ad/Leg Seminar and visit to the “Hill”.

In the last 3 month’s we’ve hired a new Executive Director and Govt. Relations Director, but the Chapter still has a great need for volunteers. Volunteers are an invaluable part of the Chapter - from helping in the office or with patient activities, participating on the Board, to simply sharing their personal stories with someone. If you have an interest in volunteering, no matter what it might be, please give Mark Murphy a call.

From the Director’s Desk
Mark Murphy, Chapter Executive Director

I shared with you last month how much I was looking forward to the annual 2020 PVA Advocacy/Legislation Seminar in Washington, D.C. I am happy to report that I was not disappointed as we had an incredible week full of solid advocacy work from our NEPVA delegation. This was my first time attending the seminar, and I was struck by the great work PVA is doing to raise so many important issues that impact our members, especially their focus on strengthening and improving the VA health care system and services. Pushing Congress to protect access to specialized services within the VA, including the spinal cord injury/disorder system of care, is of paramount importance today. Additionally, Congress needs to ensure that VA’s health care system can effectively meet its staffing requirements.

We had an opportunity to meet several legislators from across New England, including Senator Shaheen and Senator Hassan from New Hampshire. One of Senator Shaheen’s staff members shared with our group that NEPVA’s past visits to their office, particularly from Michael and Terry Negrete, have resulted in the Senator signing on to meaningful legislation that supports disabled veterans and their families. This is proof positive that these in person meetings are invaluable to furthering NEPVA’s mission and legislative priorities, and that we are making a difference.

I was delighted that our new Government Relations Director, Kristen McCone Gordon, was able to join us for the entire the week on Capitol Hill. We are fortunate to have Kristen on our staff as she brings many gifts and vast experience to this role, and we are excited about her plans to grow our legislative reach here at home in New England. Welcome Kristen!

Finally, I would be remiss if I did not acknowledge the feelings of uncertainty we are all facing as a result of the pandemic of Coronavirus. On that note, I came across this quote recently by the famous Dutch watchmaker and writer Corrie ten Boom: “Worry does not empty tomorrow of its sorrow, it empties today of its strength.” These words were encouraging to me, so I thought I would share them with you in the hopes that it might offer you some strength with all that is happening throughout the world today.

Executive Director

Secretary: VA ready for COVID-19 Pandemic

via VAntage Point

VA is ready for the COVID-19 pandemic, said VA Secretary Robert Wilkie during a White House press briefing March 18.

“One of the things we do at VA is that we prepare for national emergencies, be they national emergencies or epidemics,” Wilkie said.

VA has four specific missions. Three are Veterans health care, Veterans benefits and running national cemeteries.

“Our fourth mission is to support the federal government in times of natural disasters and pandemics,” he said. Wilkie said VA is the “buttress force” if the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) or Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) needs medical professionals for crises.

“We plan for that every day,” he said. “We are gaming out emergency preparedness scenarios and we stand ready when the President needs us to expand our mission.”

Wilkie said VA has stockpiled equipment and its supply chain is stable.

Helping Veterans

The secretary said VA has tested several hundred Veterans and 44 have tested positive for coronavirus. He said many of those Veterans self-quarantined in their homes. He added that VA works with state laboratories and private companies for testing kits.

The secretary said that Veteran care and protection is an important part of VA’s mission.

“My instructions from the President were very clear,” Wilkie said. “I was to do everything imaginable, as aggressively as possible, to protect the 9.5 million Veterans who are part of the Department of Veterans Affairs.”

The secretary said VA established 19 emergency operations centers across the country last month. Additionally, VA started limiting the number of visitors to facilities to try to stop the virus’ spread. He said VA also was one of the first health care systems that started questioning and testing visitors before allowing access. He added VA also restricted access to its Community Living Centers to help keep Veteran residents safe.

Wilkie said VA took additional steps to minimize the risk of COVID-19 exposure, including cutting back dental surgeries, routine appointments and elective surgeries.

All these actions help protect Veterans, he said.

“These were all parts of the President’s directive to be as aggressive in a public health sense as we could be,” Wilkie said. “I think we have set the pace for the entire country.

“We’ve often said we work the most noble mission in the federal government,” he continued. “Our Veterans have been in the toughest spots in the world. They have been put in conditions that are unimaginable to most Americans and they have responded.”

via PVA.org

WASHINGTON (March 19, 2020) — Paralyzed Veterans of America Executive Director Carl Blake issued the following statement regarding the medical treatment of veterans with spinal cord injury (SCI) and diseases such as MS and ALS, and other people with disabilities during the coronavirus pandemic.

“During this unprecedented pandemic, it’s important to remember everybody deserves quality health care. As such, we are coordinating closely with the Department of Veterans Affairs to ensure that the SCI system of care remains strong and fully accessible to paralyzed veterans. PVA is coordinating with the VA and Capitol Hill to address the needs of veterans who receive crucial, life-sustaining daily care in their homes. PVA is working diligently to ensure that the broader community response to the coronavirus addresses the needs of people with disabilities, particularly as major support systems are impacted and vital supplies become more difficult to obtain.”

“As the pandemic moves forward, medical professionals must not stereotype someone’s quality of life when assessing medical priorities. We have yet to see this occur in the United States, but as the number of coronavirus patients increases, PVA stands ready to continue our commitment to fight for quality health care for catastrophically disabled veterans and all people with disabilities.”
First and foremost, I thank you all for your service. It’s an honor for me to join this organization and I look forward to the opportunity to meet you.

As the Government Relations Director, I’ll be collaborating with both the Board of Directors and Executive Director to establish and execute a legislative and advocacy agenda for NEPVA. One of my priorities is to establish strong relationships with our congressional delegation and their district staff, as well as with state legislators throughout New England, to ensure our elected officials understand the issues and challenges facing NEPVA members.

At the beginning of this month, I joined my NEPVA colleagues at the Pushing Access Forward 2020: PVA Annual Advocacy Legislative Seminar in Washington, D.C. We had an opportunity to hear directly from the national staff and various government officials on PVA’s legislative priorities. We also heard and shared stories about how these issues directly affect the lives of PVA members nationwide. If you haven’t yet had an opportunity, I encourage you to review these priorities which are included on page 6. While in D.C., we also had an opportunity to meet with our New England congressional delegation and/or their staff on Capitol Hill. We found the congressional offices to be engaged and very open to future collaboration on these issues. I look forward to sharing updates with you.

I’m committed to advancing the legislative priorities of PVA, and the New England Chapter in particular, but I need your help to be successful. In order to best demonstrate the urgency and importance of these issues to legislators, I need to hear from you. As Speaker O’Neill once said, “all politics is local” as the needs of constituents really do matter most to elected officials. Please let me know if you would be willing to speak with me about your experiences with the issues highlighted on page 6.

I look forward to all that we will accomplish together.

From the Hill
Kristen McCone Gordon, Chapter Government Relations Director
2020 POLICY PRIORITIES

Veterans must have access to high quality, comprehensive, and veteran-centric health care as well as timely and accurate delivery of all earned benefits.

Veterans with disabilities must have access to the opportunities and freedoms to allow them to live, work, travel, and fully participate in society.

Strengthen and Improve the VA Health Care System and Services

A Protect Access to VA’s Specialized Services
Congress must protect access to specialized services within VA, including the spinal cord injury/disorder (SCI/D) system of care, to ensure that it remains strong and effective. Congress must also ensure that VA’s health care system is able to effectively meet its staffing requirements.

B Improve Access to VA’s Long-Term Services
Congress must provide oversight of VA’s expansion of its Program of Comprehensive Assistance for Family Caregivers (PCAFC) to ensure it is executed in a fair and timely manner and expand eligibility for the PCAFC to include veterans with serious illnesses like ALS and MS. Congress must also maintain a safe margin of community living center capacity for veterans with SCI/D.

C Access to IVF
Congress must make in-vitro fertilization (IVF) a permanent part of VA’s medical care package.

D Care for Women Veterans with SCI/D
Congress must ensure VA is able to meet the needs of women veterans with catastrophic disabilities, including their needs in decisions involving delivery of gender-specific health care.

Strengthen VA Benefits for Catastrophically Disabled Veterans and their Surviving Spouses

A Improvement to Veterans Benefits
• Increasing the Automobile Allowance Grant and ensuring that veterans receive appropriate Automotive Adaptive Equipment reimbursement;
• Addressing the transportation needs of non-service-connected veterans to help restore, promote, and preserve the highest state of health possible; and
• Prioritizing claims for Specially Adapted Housing grant for veterans with ALS and increasing the amount and usability for all catastrophically disabled veterans.

B Benefits for Surviving Spouses
Congress must ensure survivors of veterans who die from ALS receive the full benefits they are due.

Strengthen and Protect the Systems and Civil Rights that Support People with Disabilities

A Improve Access to Air Travel for Passengers with Disabilities
Congress must improve access to air travel by requiring airlines to ensure that airplanes meet broad accessibility standards and strengthening Air Carrier Access Act enforcement through referral of certain complaints to the U.S. Attorney General and a private right of action.

B Protect and Increase Compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA)
Congress must continue to protect the rights of people with disabilities to seek immediate redress of discriminatory barriers in public accommodations under the ADA and increase and expand the tax incentives available to assist businesses with ADA compliance.

C Preserve and Strengthen Financial and Health Security for People with Disabilities
Congress must strengthen and enhance the Social Security system and protect Medicare, while rejecting efforts to undermine these earned benefits programs that represent an economic safety net for millions of Americans.

D Disaster Response and Recovery that Meets the Needs of People with Disabilities
Congress must address current gaps in the ability of the emergency response and recovery system to address the needs of people with disabilities and ensure disability inclusive disaster management policies and practices.

PVA WASHINGTON UPDATE

PVA Washington Update Volume 26, Number 5

Reeve Foundation Hosts First Summit

The Christopher and Dana Reeve Foundation held its first summit in Washington, DC in late February. It’s theme: Where Care, Cure and Community Connect was meant to encompass the broad range of topics affecting those with spinal cord injuries and diseases (SCI/D). The conference brought together people with SCI/D, advocates, researchers, health professionals, family members, caregivers and other stakeholders for two days of workshops, briefings, and presentations about living with SCI/D, the state of research, and information on initiatives of the Reeve Foundation and Paralysis Resource Center (PRC). The work of the Foundation, the PRC and the conference are supported through the Administration on Community Living (ACL) at the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS).

Keynote speakers included Julie Hocker, ACL Commissioner and nominee to head the Department of Labor’s Office of Disability Employment Policy (ODEP), disability rights advocate Emily Ladau, former Senator Tom Harkin, and co-anchor of ABC’s Good Morning America Robin Roberts. In her remarks, Hocker described some of the work ACL has undertaken to change the medical model mindset of the health care community and its challenge grants program to highlight best practices in employment of people with disabilities. Ladau spoke of her efforts to be a self-advocate for accessibility and the value of collaboration rather than confrontation when she encountered disability-barriers in businesses. Sen. Harkin reflected on the work to gain passage of the Americans with Disabilities Act, the progress that has been achieved in its 30-year lifespan, as well as the challenges that remain to fulfill the goal of economic self-sufficiency embodied in the law.

Break-out sessions included presentations on “Building Resilience through Self-Advocacy,” “State of Spinal Cord Injury Research,” “Finding a Good Caregiver,” information about the Reeve Foundation Quality of Life Grants program, preparing for emergencies, and making travel less stressful. At a session on Reeve Foundation advocacy priorities, representatives of the organization reported on their ongoing work to ensure access to insurance coverage for treatments, devices, and rehabilitation for those with paralysis and coalition efforts with organizations such as PVA and others to protect the rights of air travelers with disabilities.

Another session on women living with SCI/D featured Elizabeth Leef, Program Specialist at ACL; Jennifer Sheehy, Acting Assistant Secretary for ODEP; writer and founder of the Great Scuba Adventure, Cody Unser; and Bernadette Mauro, Director at the Reeve Foundation and manager of its Military and Veterans Program. Each woman shared her experiences living with SCI/D, barriers she encountered and solutions she found most effective in overcoming those challenges. A common thread in their comments were ongoing problems in accessing health care from parking and access to health clinics, inaccessible exam tables, and doctors’ lack of understanding physical manifestations of their condition.

Annual Disability Statistics Compendium and Report Released

The University of New Hampshire Institute on Disability released the 2019 Annual Disability Statistics Compendium and Report on February 11. The Compendium features extensive tables of data about people with disabilities, including state and national values and trends over time. The Compendium covers topics such as employment, health, and education, and contains one section devoted to statistics on veterans with service-connected disabilities. An Annual Report accompanying the Compendium highlights state and trend data, and complements the detailed tables available in the Compendium & Supplement.

VA Publishes Proposed Regulations on Automobile Adaptive Equipment

On March 12, VA published a proposed rule in the Federal Register that addresses reimbursement to eligible persons who have paid for automobile adaptive equipment (AE) and payments made by VA directly to registered AE providers. The proposed rule does not address eligibility to receive adaptive equipment.
On March 9, Senior Associate Advocacy Director Lee Page viewed the next generation of the Amtrak Viewliner car. The new cars include an accessible sleeper and a sit and takeout café car. The mockup of the café car includes an accessible path of travel that allows a wheelchair user to independently select and purchase items. There is accessible seating in the car or the passenger can return to his or her sleeping compartment in the adjacent train car. The accessible sleeper includes a 360-degree turning space with the bed extended behind the closed door. Also, inside are a power door switch to secure the door, a fold out table for dining, and a roll-in shower. The Viewliner is a long-distance train car that runs from New York City to Chicago, New Orleans, and Miami in different train sets.

VA COVID-19 Response

VA announced on March 17 that it plans to ask for an additional $16.6 billion to respond to the health care needs of veterans with the corona virus (COVID-19). Action is pending in Congress on this and other virus-related spending.

The response to COVID-19 is a rapidly unfolding situation. Contact your local VA for up to date information as this continues to evolve.

Things to expect from VA Medical Centers:

- Every person entering a VA hospital will undergo a daily screening for the corona virus.
- The spinal cord injury (SCI) population is one of VA’s most susceptible populations to the novel corona virus. All VA SCI/D Centers will adopt a “no visitor” stance, meaning no outside visitors will be permitted to see inpatients. Exceptions will be when veterans are in their last stages of life or any other extenuating circumstance.
- Routine SCI/D admissions including annual examinations and respite will be rescheduled.
- Outpatient clinics are only accepting urgent appointments. Non-urgent, routine appointments are being rescheduled to a later date or scheduled as a telehealth appointment when feasible. The VA has increased telehealth appointments to continue meeting veterans’ health care needs.
  - Recreational therapy outings are canceled.
  - Physical therapy is performed at bedside.
  - Dayrooms and common areas are closed.
  - Food delivery from outside restaurants is prohibited.

If you have symptoms, or think you may have come in contact with the corona virus, contact your provider before visiting your local VA medical center or doctor’s office.

Information on the novel corona virus can be found here: https://www.publichealth.va.gov/n-coronavirus/. Information on the visitor policy for SCI can be found here: https://www.va.gov/opa/pressrel/pressrelease.cfm?id=5400.

VA Publishes Proposed Caregiver Program Regulations

On March 6, VA published a proposed rule in the Federal Register that would improve and standardize VA’s Program of Comprehensive Assistance for Family Caregivers (PCAFC) and ensure the program’s regulations reflect changes required by the VA MISSION Act of 2018.

In the proposed rule, VA seeks to standardize eligibility by expanding the definition of serious injury to include any service-connected disability that is rated at 70 percent or more by VA or is combined with any other service-connected disability or disabilities, and a combined rating of 70 percent or more is assigned by VA; defining what it means to be in need of personal care services; and ensuring that the eligibility criteria capture the personal care service needs of veterans and service members with cognitive or neurological impairment or mental health conditions, among other things.

Additionally, VA is proposing changes to the stipend payment methodology, definitions for financial planning and legal services, and procedures for revocation and discharge, to include advance notice requirements aimed at improving communication between VA and PCAFC participants.

The regulation also accounts for the VA MISSION Act’s expansion of eligibility for the PCAFC to eligible veterans from all eras, beginning with those who incurred or aggravated a serious injury in the line of duty on or before May 7, 1975. Two years after the first phase of program expansion, PCAFC will include eligible veterans who were seriously injured in the line of duty after May 7, 1975, and before September 11, 2001. Prior to expanding, VA must fully implement an information technology system required by the VA MISSION Act.

The proposed rule is open for public comment for 60 days. Written comments must be received on or before May 5. PVA will be submitting comments on the proposed changes to the program.

AMTRAK Accessible Viewliner

On March 9, Senior Associate Advocacy Director Lee Page viewed the next generation of the Amtrak Viewliner car. The new cars include an accessible sleeper and a sit and takeout café car. The mockup of the café car includes an accessible path of travel that allows a wheelchair user to independently select and purchase items. There is accessible seating in the car or the passenger can return to his or her sleeping compartment in the adjacent train car. Also, inside are a power door switch to secure the door, a fold out table for dining, and a roll-in shower. New Appeals Process
Michael Snape, National Service Officer II

The claims appeals process has changed significantly with the implementation of the Appeals Modernization Act (AMA) on February 19, 2019. Previously, a veteran had one track for appealing decisions; filing a notice of disagreement (NOD) which then had to be processed through multiple steps prior to being certified and placed on the docket for Board of Veterans Appeals (BVA) review. Veterans now have three tracks from which to choose. They can file a supplemental claim with new evidence, request a higher-level review with the same evidence (can only occur within 1 year from date of the notification letter of the rating decision), or submit a notice of disagreement directly to the BVA. Submission of a NOD directly to the BVA requires a veteran to choose between 3 tracks, a direct review by a law judge, 90-day period to submit new evidence prior to NOD by a law judge, or a hearing before a judge. Veterans have one year from the date of the notification letter of the rating decision with which they disagree to file one of the three options noted above. The majority of appeals can be addressed via a supplemental claim or higher-level review without need of a hearing or BVA review. These changes in appeals structure have significantly reduced the time veterans must wait prior to receiving a decision on their appeal. Due to the changes in appeal structure and evidence submittal rules, it is recommended that veterans work through their service organization when considering an appeal of a rating decision.

COVID-19 - CHAPTER OFFICE CLOSURE

In closely monitoring the fluid circumstances surrounding the COVID-19 pandemic, and especially in light of Massachusetts Governor Baker’s recent declaration of a State of Emergency and the recommended public restrictions associated with it, our West Roxbury Chapter office will be closed for at least the next 15-30 days.

This closure is in an effort to comply with the State and City of Boston’s recommended restrictions and to protect the health and well-being of those who regularly work in the Chapter office day-to-day.

During this office closure, all office employees have the capability and will be working remotely from home to continue meeting the needs of our membership and the Chapter office. Additionally, if you need to contact the Chapter office, you’ll still able to reach the Chapter leadership, employees or resources through our existing phone system’s auto-attendant at 800-660-1181. At the end of the closure period, it and the office operations, will be re-evaluated for any needed modifications, adjustments and/or continuances.

For info and updates on upcoming sporting events or activities please contact the Chapter office at (800) 660-1181 option #5.
